Conditions relating to the Abandonment of a Metered Outlet:

1. Once an outlet has been abandoned, re-instatement of the outlet would be fully funded by the property owner and approval of the re-instatement is not guaranteed.
2. Sharing rights will not be re-instated once a shared outlet has been abandoned. If re-instatement of the outlet is required, a new outlet would need to be constructed and fully funded by the property owner.
3. While the outlet may have been abandoned in a physical sense on the property, SRW also requires the abandonment to be recorded in our computer data system.
4. Once this application is submitted to SRW and approved, a formal agreement will be sent back to you for sign off, to finalise the abandonment.
5. Once this formal agreement is signed and returned to SRW the outlet charge will be removed from the applicable account for the current year, or the related fee will be reimbursed if the account has been previously paid.

Note:

All owners of the property to which the outlet relates must sign this form. Applications that have not been signed by all land owners will not be approved.
